FEE FOR SERVICE

The Sotoyome Resource Conservation District (SRCD) is a local, non-regulatory public agency located in Sonoma County. Our district area covers the northern two-thirds of the County including the cities of Rohnert Park, Cotati, Santa Rosa, Healdsburg, and Windsor.

Sotoyome RCD has distinguished itself as a leader in coordination of watershed groups and on the ground restoration projects. SRCD's fee for service program includes prioritization, schedule/document control, permitting, environmental review, public outreach, financial management, and project implementation oversight.

Our project experience encompasses watershed management, large scale invasive species removal, streambank stabilization, alternative water storage development, riparian revegetation projects, and group capacity building.

CONTACT THE SRCD ABOUT YOUR PROJECT TODAY.

Sotoyome RCD's team includes professionals in:
